COLLEGE RELATIONS WORKLOADS REASSIGNED TO OTHER OFFICES

A distribution of responsibility for workloads, currently a part of the College Relations Office, to other offices on campus is being put into effect for a trial period.

The retirement of Barbara Nolte, who headed the College Relations Office for 13 years, and the possible effects on future College budgets by Proposition 9 in the June election, have resulted in the College administration's decision to fragment temporarily the various programs now conducted by the College Relations Office.

The changes include assignment of the College Bulletin and calendar to the Public Affairs Office. Campus Tours and the Speakers Bureau will be handled by the Office of Vice President for Administration. The Admissions and Records Office will take over the processing and handling of graduates for Commencement.

The change-over will be put into effect April 21.

"BULLETIN" EDITOR
BIDS READERS GOODBYE

With this edition, my nearly 14 years as editor of the Bulletin come to an end. After some 650 editions your editor is writing "30."

The exigencies of leisure, travel, a fling at some freelance writing and some pressure exerted by my husband who is also retiring, compel me to try a new life-style.

Space does not permit naming all who have helped with the Bulletin over the years, but particularly I want to thank the outstanding staff in the Duplicating Center. For nearly 10 and a half years Scott James faithfully printed the Bulletin and calendar every Friday morning. In preceeding years, Jim Gooch performed that task and still assists with other phases of the process. I also thank Irene Garcia for all her help.

Forthcoming issues of the Bulletin and It's Happening will be published by the Public Affairs Office. Information to be included in succeeding issues should be forwarded to AD-117.

I want to thank the Bulletin readers for their support and the occasional words of appreciation. It was my desire and privilege to serve the College through the Bulletin.

I wish my successor all the rewards of the job.

Barbara Nolte

A Welsh educator-philosopher will speak here Tuesday, April 15.

The College and the public are invited to join the School of Education faculty to hear D. Z. Phillips, Professor of Philosophy at the University of Swansea, South Wales, according to Francesca Bero, Asst. Prof., Education and former student of the visiting lecturer. The talk will begin at 11 a.m. in LC-500.

Prof. Phillips, who has the same lilting speech style as his countryman, Dylan Thomas, will discuss "Magic and Education."

A former minister, Prof. Phillips is chairman of the philosophy department at the University of Swansea. Dr. Bero, who is instrumental in bringing the philosopher to campus, met him while working on her dissertation in England and Wales.

While on campus, Prof. Phillips also will meet with a philosophy class at 3 p.m. in LC-241. Interested persons are invited to join this group. The topic of this talk will be "Wittgenstein's Full Stop," a discussion of mystical experiences. There is no charge to either lecture.
